

2024 – OXFORD SUMMER CAMPS

The Oxford Institute offers an exclusive Oxford Experience through its summer camp programmes. There are a number of factors that make us distinct.

The Oxford Institute is comprised of Oxford University graduates, faculty and alumni.

Our students reside at the Oxford University campus and use all the facilities that are normally exclusively available to Oxford University students including accommodations, dining halls, lecture rooms, sports and recreational facilities, parks, and gardens, etc. They are taught by tutors, lecturers, professors, and research affiliates associated with the University of Oxford. Our strength lies in the holistic and personalized nature of the program. Every day is balanced to include academic, extracurricular (debates, sports, arts, music), and social (sightseeing, entertainment, cultural evenings) activities.

Our courses are designed by the academics at Oxford University, and we follow the same tutorial method of teaching that has made Oxford one of the best universities in the world.

Our program emphasizes the development of soft skills such as networking, teamwork, and leadership through several practical projects and activities such as debating at the world-renowned Oxford Union.

Our counselors give expert advice to students on applying to Oxford, Cambridge, Harvard, MIT, Yale, and other top universities for their undergraduate or postgraduate studies and which career paths would suit their intellectual abilities.

We encourage active participation in class discussions so that every student gets to make an individual contribution.

We train our students to develop their critical thinking skills and question established theories and concepts.

We empower our students by having them lead individual and team assignments and presentations and instill confidence through debates and public speaking.

Students are also facilitated in using their daily unstructured time to explore and pursue activities that align with their interests. The program is very intimate – limited to 50-80 students per batch – and therefore highly personalized.

Overall, we create the most supportive environment for students to explore and enhance their academic abilities and creative talents and freely pursue their passions.
